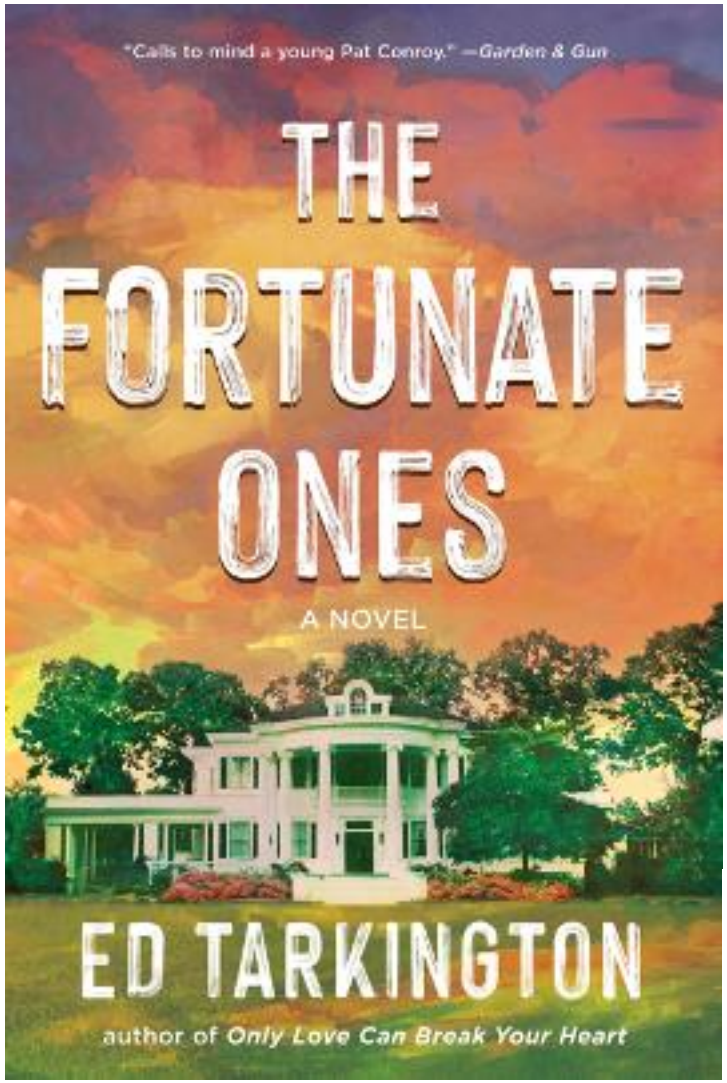
The Fortunate Ones
Ed Tarkington



Fiction / Family Life

• For fans of Ann Patchett's Commonwealth and Kevin Wilson's Nothing to See Here, this is an engrossing story of class, love, and loyalty.

• "Tarkington's writing . . . calls to mind a young Pat Conroy." —Garden & Gun

• "The novel is concerned with what lies beneath both the best intentions and worst impulses. There's a tantalizingly thin line between love and desire here. . . An impressive literary balancing act that entertains as it enriches."

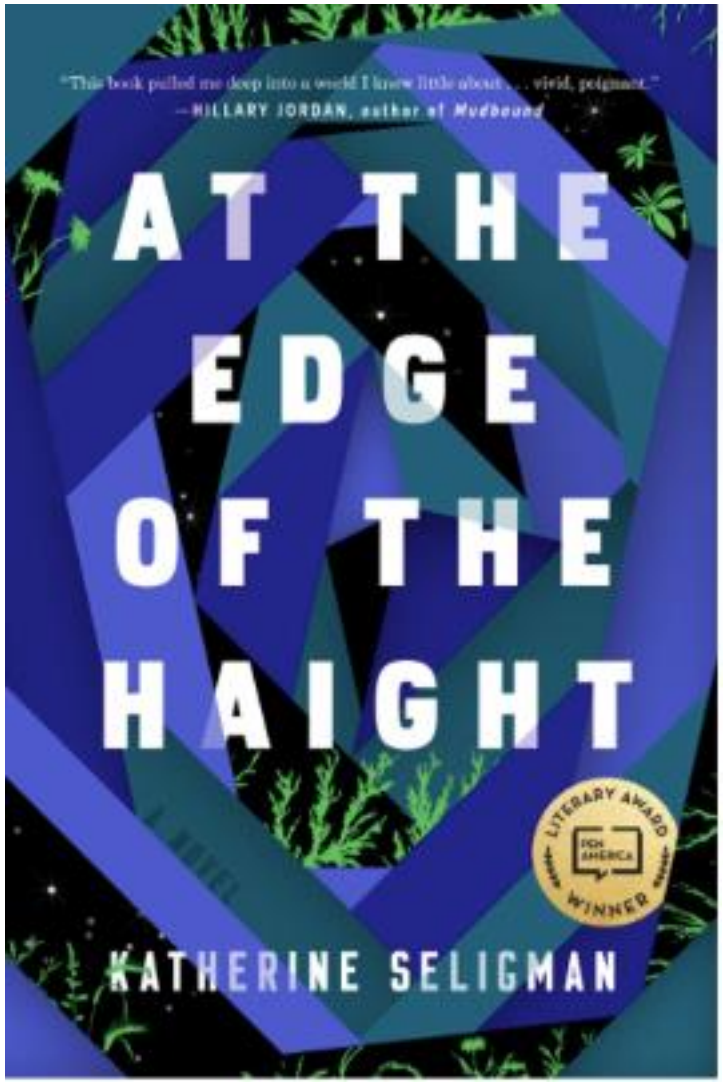
At the Edge of the Haight
Katherine Seligman



Fiction / Coming Of Age

- The Winner of the 2019 PEN/Bellwether Prize for Socially Engaged Fiction.

- Set in San Francisco, where high rents have exacerbated the homeless problem and where large tent cities are often under threat, Seligman shows us what homelessness can look like in a wealthy, trendy city.

- "What a read this is, right from its startling opening scene. But even more than plot, it's the richly layered details that drive home a lightning bolt of empathy.

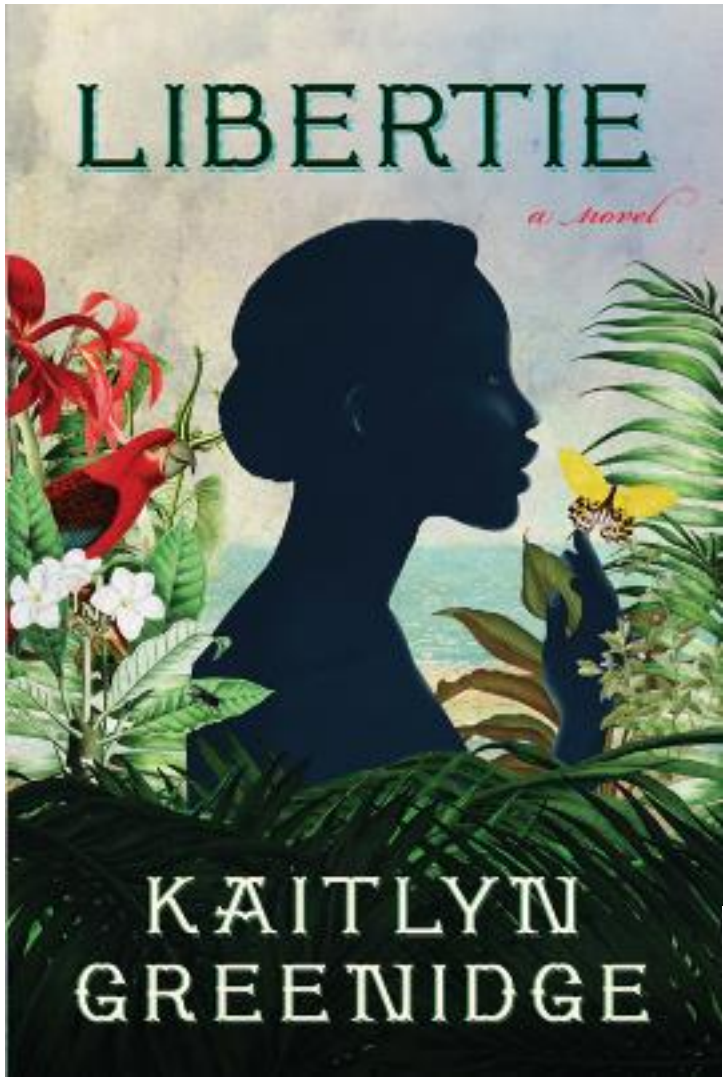
Libertie
Kaitlyn Greenidge



Fiction / African American / Historical

• Inspired by the life of one of the first Black female doctors in the United States and rich with historical detail, Kaitlyn Greenidge's new novel resonates in our times and is perfect for readers of Brit Bennett, Min Jin Lee, and Yaa Gyasi.

• "Pure brilliance. So much will be written about Kaitlyn Greenidge's Libertie—how it blends history and magic into a new kind of telling, how it spins the past to draw deft circles around our present—but none of it will measure up to the singular joy of reading this book." —Mira Jacob, author of Good Talk

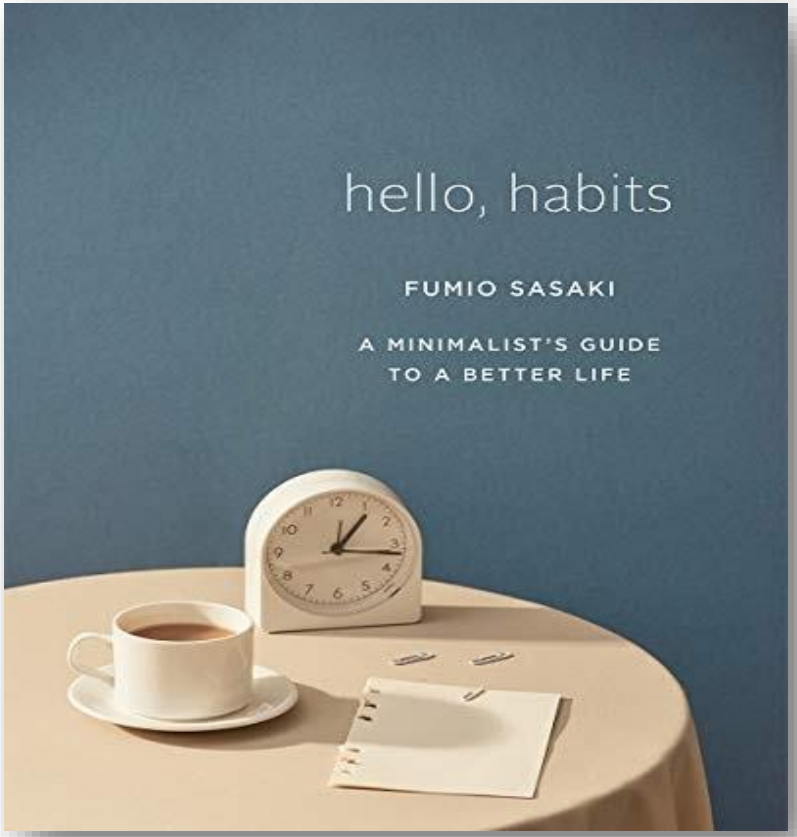
Hello, Habits

Fumio Sasaki
Motivational / Self Help



A Minimalist's Guide to a Better Life

The internationally best-selling author of Goodbye, Things shares insights and practices to help us embrace habits and become the best versions of ourselves.

Fumio Sasaki changed his life when he became a minimalist. But before minimalism could really stick, he had to make it a habit. All of us live our lives based on the habits we've formed, from when we get up in the morning to what we eat and drink to how likely we are to actually make it to the gym. In Hello, Habits, Sasaki explains how we can acquire the new habits that we want—and get rid of the ones that don't do us any good.

"Offers consistently doable suggestions on how to pare down, with reminders that there's no single correct answer." — Library Journal (Goodbye Things)

"[A] compulsively readable primer on living with less…" — Publishers Weekly (Goodbye Things)

The Center of Everything

Jamie Harrison
Fiction / Family Life

Set against the wild beauty of Montana as a woman attempts to heal from a devastating accident, this generational saga from the award-winning author of The Widow Nash is a heartfelt examination of how the deep bonds of family echo throughout our lives.

"This doesn't feel like a work of fiction. It feels real, like reading someone's diary. I'm left convinced that these characters have immortal souls and I find comfort in their familiarity. I want to spend more time in their world, urging them to whisper their secrets in my ear. A brilliant book."
—Jamie Ford, New York Times bestselling author

"A sharply intelligent, warmhearted embrace of human imperfection--the kind of book that invites a second reading."
— Kirkus Reviews (starred review)

Jamie Harrison is the author of several novels, including the Jules Clement series of mysteries and The Widow Nash, a finalist for the High Plains Book Award and the winner of the Mountains & Plains Independent Booksellers Association Reading the West Book Award.

Cosmic Queries

Neil deGrasse Tyson and James Trefil
Physics / Astronomy

For science geeks, space and physics nerds, and all who want to understand their place in the universe, this enlightening new book from Neil deGrasse Tyson offers a unique take on the mysteries and curiosities of the cosmos, building on rich material from his beloved StarTalk podcast.

- Cosmic Queries is an extension of the popular StarTalk multi-platform (radio, podcast, television) talk show, which seamlessly blends science, comedy, and pop culture. In the show, the authors solicit the StarTalk fanbase for questions on a topic, and answer them during the show; to their delight, it has become fans' most beloved format.
- In book form, Cosmic Queries will have room to explore the deepest questions that are submitted. Like, Where did it all come from? What's it all made of? Are we alone in the universe? And, how will it all end? For that, you need a book: conceived, organized, and written using the informative but still breezy DNA of StarTalk itself.
- Neil deGrasse Tyson will narrate the various sidebars and tweets sprinkled throughout.

Killer Triggers

Joe Kenda
True Crime / Murder

Since time out of mind, humans have carried within them emotional triggers that can set off murderous rampages. Even the most placid and peaceful of us have the potential for violence, and once our triggers are pulled, morality crumbles, sanity is lost, and consequences become immaterial.

"Sitting down to read Joe Kenda's Killer Triggers is like settling in to listen to a masterful storyteller sharing his own story.‘’

Curse of Salem

Kay Hooper
Supernatural Thrillers

New York Times bestselling author Kay Hooper is back with a brand-new thrilling paranormal suspense novel in the Bishop/Special Crimes Unit series.

The small town of Salem has been quiet for months—or so Bishop and his elite Special Crimes Unit believe. But then Hollis Templeton and Diana Hayes receive a warning in Diana's eerie "gray time" between the world of the living and the realm of the dead that a twisted killer is stalking Salem, bent on destroying in the most bloody and horrifying way possible the five families that founded the town.

Praise for New York Times bestselling author Kay Hooper and her novels

"It passed the 'stay up late to finish it in one night' test."--The Denver Post

"Readers will be mesmerized."--Publishers Weekly

Kay Hooper is the award-winning, New York Times bestselling author of the Bishop/Special Crimes Unit series and the Bishop Files series.
